

Call for participants for training and implementation of an online learning programme

“Development of the eLearning skills Introduction to Moodle LMS to youth work practitioners”

March 7th – 16th
Serbia

DESCRIPTION

The aim of the project “Innovation and eLearning in service of youth work and non-formal education in Europe” is to enhancing the quality of non-formal education and youth work in Western Balkans and EU. Project activities will step-by-step build capacity of youth workers, trainers, teachers, educators and researchers from 8 participating countries (Finland, Lithuania, Spain, Albania, Kosovo, Croatia, Macedonia and Serbia).

Within the project there will be organized the training for youth workers and trainers active in the field of NFE to experience and learn how to use Information Communications Technology (ICT) to create a supporting eLearning environment. Participants will have a chance to get information about general ITC filed, and after that will be more focused on Moodle (an open-source software learning management system). They will get info about Moodle Directory, Page, Book, URL linking, Label, principles of instructional design, and other things that will help them to start (during the training) developing their own online courses using Moodle platform. So, this is not only training, because after it, participants (small groups of six persons) will be obligated to deliver the online course (that they will create during the training).

More about the training and previous project activities can be found on the project website www.iqnf.education
